

NHS 111 for urgent medical needs

When you have an urgent medical need that isn't life threatening, or you're unsure what to do, visit 111.nhs.uk or call 111 free from your mobile or landline.

NHS 111 is always open and, depending on the situation, can:

- advise on what local service can help you
- connect you to a nurse, emergency dentist, pharmacist or GP
- book you a face-to-face appointment if needed
- give you an arrival time if you need to go to A&E or one of the walk-in centres
- explain how to get any medicine you need
- offer self-care advice.

Other ways to contact NHS 111:

- Text relay: Call 18001 111
- British sign language (BSL):
Use signvideo.co.uk/nhs111
- Help in other languages:
Call 111 and ask for an interpreter.

For life-threatening injuries or illnesses go straight to A&E or call 999. Text relay users can call 18000 to get through to 999.

Pharmacies: Help is around the corner

Pharmacists are highly trained health experts, who can offer clinical advice and over-the-counter medicines for a range of minor illnesses. If symptoms suggest it's something more serious, pharmacists will tell you if you need to see a GP, nurse, or other health professional.

Many pharmacies are open late and at weekends. You don't need an appointment and most have a private consultation room where you can speak without being overheard. Find your nearest and opening times at nhs.uk/find-a-pharmacy

GP services including evenings and weekends

Your GP surgery can help with physical and mental health concerns, and refer you to a hospital or other medical service if you need specialist or urgent care.

To book an appointment, phone or visit your surgery. You may also be able to book by logging into your NHS account, via the NHS app or NHS website. You can also usually contact a GP using a secure, confidential online form on your surgery's website, to let them know about symptoms, ask a question, or follow up on something.

Appointments may be with a GP, nurse, or other healthcare professional and take place face to face, by phone, or online – depending on your needs.

Evening and weekend appointments are available in your local area. To book, contact your own GP surgery during normal opening hours.

Being registered with a GP will help you get the right care when you need it. Anyone in England can register and receive care – you do not need proof of address or immigration status, ID or a NHS number. Contact a local GP surgery or visit nhs.uk/nhs-services/gps for details.

NHS walk-in centres

There are two NHS walk in centres in Barnet where you can get help with urgent, but non-life threatening, injuries or illnesses. You do not need an appointment but some are available to pre-book via NHS 111.

Stay well this winter

Information and services for Barnet residents

Winter 2022-23

- Edgware NHS Walk in Centre, Edgware Community Hospital, Burnt Oak Broadway, HA8 0AD, 020 8732 6459 (Open every day from 8am to 6pm).
- Finchley NHS Walk in Centre, Finchley Memorial Hospital, Granville Road N12 0JE, 020 8349 7470 (Open every day from 8am to 9pm).

Support for mental health

Contact your GP if you, or someone you care for, is experiencing mental health difficulties. You can also visit:

- lets-talk-iapt.nhs.uk or call 020 8702 5309 for free, confidential help for common problems such as stress, anxiety, depression and insomnia
- barnet.gov.uk/mental-health for information on local services and support
- good-thinking.uk for NHS-approved London-wide information and advice.

If you need help for a mental health crisis or emergency, call our crisis helpline on 0800 151 0023 to speak to a qualified professional. The helpline is always open and suitable for both adults and children and young people.

Advice on urgent dental care

If you need urgent dental treatment, contact your usual dental practice. They may be able to see you or direct you to an urgent dental care service. If you don't have a regular dentist, visit 111.nhs.uk or call 111 for advice.

Boost your immunity

Getting fully vaccinated against COVID-19 and having your free annual flu jab (if eligible), will help protect you and those around you. Visit nclhealthandcare.org.uk/covid for advice and details of how to book.

Check your medicine cabinet

Be prepared this winter and, if you can, have over-the-counter medicines at home for common conditions such as a cold, indigestion or diarrhoea. Ask your pharmacist what's appropriate for you and your loved ones. A first aid kit with items like plasters, a thermometer, and antiseptic may also be useful.

Order repeat prescriptions with ease

If you take medicine regularly, you'll usually have a repeat prescription. This means you can order your medicine when you need it without having to see a GP until your next medicine review.

One easy way to order your repeat prescriptions is to log into your online NHS account, using the NHS app or NHS website. Find out more and register at nhs.uk/nhs-services/online-services

You can ask for your medicine at your GP surgery if you don't want to do this online. Ask your surgery how you should let them know when you need your repeat prescription.

Keeping warm at home

Some people are more vulnerable to the effects of cold weather. If you're not very mobile, are 65 or over, or have a health condition – such as heart or lung disease – heat your home to at least 18C if you can. If possible, keep your bedroom at 18C all night and your bedroom window closed.

To reduce the risk of sudden infant death syndrome, babies should sleep in rooms heated to between 16C and 20C.

If you're under 65, healthy and active, you can safely have your home cooler than 18C, as long as you're comfortable.

Visit nhs.uk/keep-warm-keep-well for more information.

If you're struggling with energy bills or need support to stay warm, find out what financial and practical help is available by contacting Barnet Council (barnet.gov.uk/costofliving or 020 8359 2000).

Look out for others

Older neighbours, friends and family may need extra help over the winter. Keep in touch and make sure they have enough food and medicine, in case they can't go out for a few days. If they need help when their GP or pharmacy is closed or they're unsure what to do, visit 111.nhs.uk or call 111.

Support with the cost of living

If you are struggling with the cost of food, energy, and other bills you are not alone and help is available. Visit barnet.gov.uk/costofliving or call Barnet Council on 020 8359 2000 for advice on areas including housing, energy and utility bills, benefits and employment, money and debt management, food banks, pension and disability services, support for families and children, and adult social care.
